CLASS PROPHECY

It was one of those dark, dreary, lazy days when all at once, I, Leona Mathias began to feel a little drowsy and in no time at all am in the year 1956.

After singing on the NIC network here in California for three years I decided to take a trip across the states to Dennison, Ohio to visit one of my old classmates, Evelynn Fox, who is now married.

All aboard! All aboard! Well of all things! Mr. Eugene Endrizzi, our favorite conductor and Mr. Harold Yonley, the Railroads No 1 Engineer.

Starting on the first leg of my trip I see a very dignified man sitting in the second seat. Oh, yes, Dal Risley, who is a traveling salesman for the United Auto Co. directed by Frank Zavasky. Also, working for this company is Robert Croniser, one of the best mechanics.

I arrive just in time at the Ohio Central Station in Columbus to see one of the worst accidents of the year.

A semi driven by Larry Craft, and a blue convertible driven by Cleveland Coach Ross Fausto, collided with another car driven by Herman Wright, Cleveland's favorite pitcher, who was coming home after a win over the New York Yankees 33 to 10.

Standing around the boys are four nurses, and Dr. Bruce Stratton. The nurses consisted of Margaret Henry, Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson Vickers, Martha Richardson, and the head nurse Maxine Thomas.

All three boys are taken to Mercy Hospital in a very serious condition. I took a cab and arrived at the hospital ahead of the others. Seeing two other nurses, I recognized them as none other than Doris Gray and Elizabeth Robinson, taking the elevator to their main rooms.

Tonight, the night after the accident, I am invited to the Bring-It-On-Club at Willy Whistle Street here in Columbus. The orchestra director is Jack Wright, who directs some 55 students. We danced mostly to jazz music since four Ohio State boys didn't like slow music.

Coming out on the stage now are two beautifully dressed girls, one seated at the piano and the other singing.

Seated at the table I am surrounded by the four Ohio State students. I started the conversation by asking who the two girls were. Sigel Stocker who is studying agriculture, said the singer was Miss Charlotte Eash and the pianist Louise Reed, working for the PIC Co. Finding out that they were my old friends at DHS I was very much surprised.

Jim Biddlestone and Sam Moody are also studying agriculture. They are in the last half of the fifth term. Bill Merideth is studying to be a criminal lawyer.

Before starting on the last leg of my trip, I skip back to the hospital to find out that Larry was transferred back to the Uhrich Transfer Co. and Ross limping on crutches was still at the hospital. Herman was taken to his home in Pennsylvania.

Walking down the aisle of the train is a very beautiful girl, in a new style dress. She is none other than Kathryn Campisi, who with the assistance of a very important person in her life, Joan Mitchell, her beautician, is styled to perfection.

Who should I see in a sailor suit but Jack Romig coming back from Germany, for a week furlough. While Jack and I were talking of old times a blonde took a seat next to ours. We soon find out Miriam Coventry has taken a four year course in college to be a secretary.

Pulling into the Dennison Depot Jack's mother and dad are waiting for him.

Since Evelynn belonged to the All-Merry-Couple Organization, here in Dennison, I was invited also. We walked about two blocks when up the street came a man covered with dirt and wearing a miner's cap. We soon recognized him as Kenneth McGill, who was a miner in his Dad's mine. At the corner of Grant Street leaning against the light post who should we see? Jim Sponseller, who said he was just loafing around.

The club was a gray brick building on the corner of Main Street. The inside of the club was well lighted with about 30 tables directly in the center of the room in two neat rows. Evelynn being one of the head assistants left me, to help with the others.

I couldn't believe my eyes, when out of the arch-way five newly wed brides appeared. Hearing the names being called by the manager and announcer Mr. Dick Bruns, was exciting for me. The bride on my right is Mrs. Rose Torch Reese, on my left is Mrs. Ann Morris Case. The brides now seated are Mrs. Beverly Arnold Aldergate, Mrs. Nancy Shaw Scopelite, Mrs. JoAnn Baker Barth. Now that you know our newly weds for this week, let us get on with the show! Our first speaker is Miss Lorene Herron, Manager of the Take-A-Flop Skating Rink in Canton, Ohio, who will make a speech on "Why Do Men Marry."

I thought Miss Herron was a grand speaker, but one of the men at the back table seemed out of sorts. He jumped up from the table and said, "I disagree on one point that you made, Miss Herron, we men never find the right woman, that is why we have so many divorces. Another man in a gray suit came over to the fellow and began shaking and boxing him around. In came the manager and told me to show the two men the way out. I was so stunned upon recognizing him as Eugene Richards, the head butcher of the Harris Meat Packing Co. and Gene Clark, of old times, that I let out a yell which frightened Miss Pearl Kopp, one of the waitresses, who let her tray of dishes fall to the floor.

Boy, what a mess we had! The two men left with a "Goodbye" when another of Mr. Bruns assistants, Margaret Eberly, ordered me out. When I asked her who she was talking to, she said "You", and I said "Who" and she said, "If you don't shut up and get out I'll call the manager."

When I went out it was pouring, all I could see was a Ford parked in front of the Clark's Electric Supply Store. I don't know why I went in this place but I still was so stunned from the fight that I couldn't see straight. Who should I see talking to his customer? You guessed it, the same Mr. Eugene Clark who was at the club. Now, I almost stumbled over one of his new clocks on a hand painted table. I soon recognized Mrs. Barbara Turnbull Rypien, one of my best classmates. While we were talking of old times she said that Ruth Dickey, Jo DeGeorge, and Alberta Emhoff were all married and each had a baby girl.

Since I needed a new dress for the dance Monday night, I asked Barbara to drive me to the best store in town Monday morning. Approaching is a slim rather beautiful lady whom we soon recognize as Phyllis Colvin, assistant Secretary of the Monroe Company. The store being large, Phyllis does two jobs in one, a clerk in the morning and a secretary in the afternoon.

Back at the baby counter were three didnified ladies. Oh, Yes, I must remember Ruth, Jo, and Alberta have baby girls.

Two short girls in fur coats bounce in the door. To be sure they are none other than two Secretaries Donna Ross, and Freda Barr, of the Ohio Service Company on Broadway Street.

Oh my head, could I have indigestion? How stupid I am, for standing in front of me is Mr. Allen and a familiar door. Could this be Room No. 34?

SENIOR HISTORY

The Seniors of 1950 would like to present to the other following grades all the successful years we have had in Dennison High School.

When we were Freshmen just like you, we had a room of seventy students. Gradually up through the years they dropped out, until there are only forty-eight of us left.

During our Freshmen year, we participated in the following activities: band, orchestra, Den-Hi, G.A.A., and chorus. This year the Homecoming Queen attendent was Evelynn Fox.

Climbing on up the rocky mountains comes the Sophomore class. During this year we had a broader outlook for the coming future. We planned and managed until our year was a successful one. Some of the successful doings were: our Annual Freshmen-Sophomore Prom held in May. The homecoming queen attendent for this year was Joan Mitchell. We also took a great part in all other school activities.

Stopping now at the half way mark we are Juniors. In our dramatic achievement we Juniors presented our first play "Mamma Had A Hunch" which was a huge success.

Many of our classmates participated in most of the activi-ties of the school, such as football, basketball, track, band, Hi-Teen, G.A.A., National Honor Society, and the Den-Hi staff.

The Junior attendent for this year was also Evelynn Fox. One of the most exciting moments of all was the Junior-Senior Prom. It was tops!

A great cloud was formed and on this cloud projected our dreams. We have reached the top and are looking down on you lucky Juniors whom we hope to see graduate from Dennison High School.

Since this is our last year we did many important and successful things. Among them: a skirt and sweater dance, skating parties, popcorn sales, and had a part in all school activities.

Kathyrn Campisi was our elected Queen and her Senior attendent was Joan Mitchell. The other attendents were: Junior: Joan Fulton, Sophomore: Sally McClusky, and Freshman: Jeanene Bache. We are looking forward to many other successful doings, as the Spring Formal in April, and the Junior-Senior Prom.

Our officers for this year are President, Sigel Stocker, Vice-President, Sam Moody, and Sec-Treasurer, Dick Bruns, who are doing an excellant job.

But talk about dramatics! "Professor How Could You" our Senior play was one of the most popular hits at this time. The play was directed by Mr. Jack Hayes and Miss Ila Watson who did a splendid job.

Yet, we can't forget Mr. Morrison our Senior home room teacher who did an excellant job of controlling himself in the Senior Home Room.

SUMMARY OF FOOTBALL GAMES (1949)

Four weeks before the opening game of the 1949 football season, the prospective Railroaders squad met with Coaches Jim Allen and John Harmon to prepare for their coming schedule. Out of nine games scheduled for the 1949 season, the Railroaders won 3, lost 5, and had one tie.

The opening game was the night of September 16, with Midvale at Dennison. The Railroaders began the season by defeating Midvale 33-13.

On September 23, at Shadyside, the Railroaders were trampled to a 19-6 defeat.

Everyone was happily surprised when the Railroaders who were rated as underdogs to Danville, defeated their squad 25-7, September 30.

The Railroaders met defeat again by Wintersville at Dennison on October 7, the score was 44-19.

The Railroaders went to Barnesville, October 14, and battled the Shamrocks to a 19-19 tie.

Then came the traditional Uhrichsville game. The Dennison stadium was crammed almost beyond capacity with thousands of fans to see the famous Uhrichsville-Dennison battle. The Tigers led 12-7 at the half-time and kept their lead until the last 40 seconds of the game, when Cummings charged across the line making the deciding touchdown. The Railroaders again were victorious with a score of 13-12.

On October 28, the Cadiz Cardinals flew into Dennison stadium and defeated the Railroaders 24-12.

On the road again, November 4, the Railroaders received a startling set-back of 38-0 from Carrollton.

At Dennison, in the final game, November 11, the Railroaders were defeated again by a 20-13 score handed them by the undefeated Newcomerstown Trojans.

The Railroaders had five veteran players for this and will have 14 back for the coming season.

Charley Cummings and Ross Fausto won the county's scoring honors of 1949. Cummings was also selected the all-star E.C.O.L. champ.
